Projects are the place where innovation becomes tangible.

Leverage your innovative ideas by launching an innovation project within the Alliance.

Use the resources of the Alliance to move faster.

Create a winning team

The most important element for success is the right team. The office supports you in finding the best experts for your innovation idea - in terms of expertise and beyond.

Get funding

For a lot of digital innovation projects, public funding is available which may substantially leverage your own innovation ideas. The Alliance helps you to get access to those funding programs.

Receive financial support

For Industrial Members, starting an innovation project leads to many additional benefits, up to a free membership:

- The flex budget, coupled to your membership, can be used for financing the innovation project.
- On top of this, the Alliance issues a seed funding up to 5'000.- CHF per project.

How to get a free membership with an innovation project

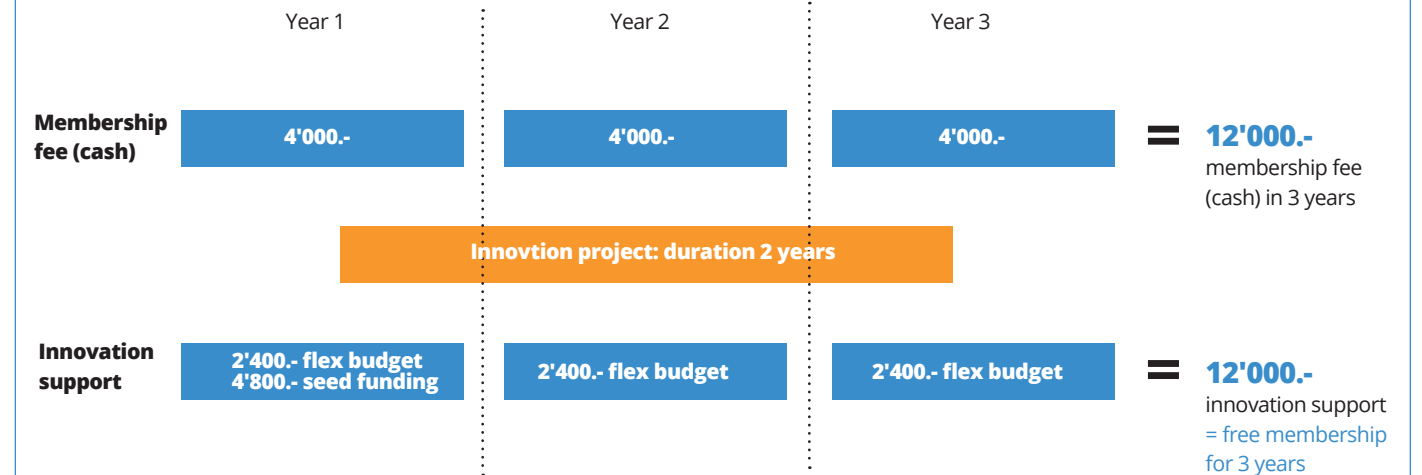

During an innovation project, your membership fee may be substantially decreased, due to the support mechanisms described.

What are innovation projects?

Innovation projects are characterized by the following attributes:

- They aim at creating innovation for a product or service.
- They have a project volume of at least 20'000 CHF.
- Results and learnings are shared within the network - of course with full protection of relevant IP and core knowledge. Typical ways of sharing are, e.g., a talk at one of the Alliance events, or a written form of letting-know.
